

I fully support satellite radio. I have great difficulty holding a lock on the reception of AM radio stations. Satellite is always there with a no fade signal. This is the radio service of the new age. Put FM and AM out for bid in the private sector for personnel and military communication services where it is really needed.